1. Scope

These General Terms and Conditions of Business of TÜV Rheinland in Greater China ("GTC") is made between the client and one or more member entities of TÜV Rheinland in Greater China ("TÜV Rheinland") in Greater China. These GTC shall be the basis for the execution of contracts for the services of TÜV Rheinland to the client and/or the conclusion of agreements in the name of TÜV Rheinland. They shall remain in effect until revoked in writing. Any amendments to these General Terms and Conditions of Business ("GTC") shall be effective if and only if they are subsequently agreed to in writing by the parties.

2. Personal data

TÜV Rheinland will process and store the personal data collected in the course of the work, in accordance with China’s relevant laws and regulations. The client shall guarantee that the personal data and the information to be disclosed are accurate, complete, true, and up to date, to facilitate the performance of services by TÜV Rheinland. In the event of any violation of the above, TÜV Rheinland shall not be liable.

3. Confidentiality

Confidential information is everything (i) which the disclosing party ("disclosing party") hands over, transfers or otherwise discloses to the receiving party ("receiving party") in the course of the work; (ii) which the receiving party can furnish proof that:

1. is known to the receiving party in any other way than the disclosing party has furnished it to the receiving party; or
2. is collected, compiled, or otherwise obtained by TÜV Rheinland independently of the disclosing party, including, but not limited to, all data, plans, drawings, know-how collected, compiled or otherwise obtained by TÜV Rheinland in each individual case.

Confidential information includes, but is not limited to, all documents, images, drawings, know-how, data, samples and project documents, except where the disclosing party has made public the content of the confidential information or the receiving party already knew the confidential information in a similar way. TÜV Rheinland is entitled to make file copies of such reports, certificates and confidential documents which one party (the "disclosing party") hands over, transfers or otherwise discloses to the other party.

Confidential information is excludable. The disclosing party shall mark all confidential information disclosed in written form as "Confidential Information". The receiving party shall not disclose this information to any third parties or use it for itself.

The disclosing party shall inform the receiving party in writing of the extent to which the receiving party is bound to confidentiality. The rights of the disclosing party shall also be entitled to charge lump sum or damages for resulting additional expenses. If the receiving party violates this clause, it shall pay lump sum damages or take corresponding actions or Bear the costs incurred no damage whatsoever or only a considerably lower damage than the above lump sum damages.

3.2. Confidentiality

The client shall ensure that all its personnel made available is regarded as vicarious agent of TÜV Rheinland. If TÜV Rheinland sustains additional costs of necessary disposal measures in connection with the data protection regulations in force at the time the client is entered into.
